

Three ways one device pays for itself.

1 Patient satisfaction

Your patients already pay for microneedling and facials. Mesotherapy is the upgrade they can see: product placed at depth, a faster session, the same result whoever is holding the device — and most patients need no numbing at all. They notice, and they rebook.

2 Revenue

Two cash-pay menu lines from one device: a signature face protocol and a scalp protocol. Series pricing in the chair, home care at checkout, reorders between visits. No insurance, no reimbursement wait.

3 Less waste

Topical application leaves product on the surface and in the gauze. Metered delivery puts the dose you load into the patient — not the line, not the sharps bin. With biologics and professional vials priced by the box, that is margin you keep every session.

PRE

Home prep: cleanser and serum, so skin arrives hydrated and ready.

DURING

MPGun places your professional vial or biologic at the depth you set.

POST

The 4-step ritual protects the hydration barrier, so the result holds.

Home care that protects the result

The 4-step ritual — cleanser, serum, cream, protection — protects the skin's hydration barrier after treatment. Results look better and last longer, and the reorder comes back to you.

One order. One partner. Ships from Utah.

INSIDE: THE DELIVERY PROBLEM, TWO NEW MENU LINES, AND THE MATH.

THE DELIVERY PROBLEM

The most expensive thing in your treatment room is the product that never gets in.

Microneedling, hydradermabrasion, topical PRP on the scalp — they all end the same way: a costly product applied to the surface, and a hope that enough of it finds its way down. Mesotherapy skips the hope. It places the product at the depth you choose — the dermis for the face, deeper for the scalp — so what you paid for reaches the layer you're targeting. MPGun makes that placement precise, fast, and repeatable, for every provider on your team.

0.1 mm

Depth precision. A number in the chart, not a guess.

0.5–10 mm

Depth range. Superficial dermal work to the depth scalp work needs.

1,500/min

Pen mode. Rapid shallow passes that rejuvenate the skin — faster than a hand can needle.

700/min

Gun mode. Point-by-point papules — a measured bolus at the press and frequency you set, down to manual.

10

Saved protocols. Same settings — every provider, every visit.

- Pen and gun in one hand-piece — place the bolus, then work the skin
- AI-metered delivery — near-zero product waste
- Reads fluid pressure and tissue response in real time
- Ships complete: device, stand, carrying case

SERVICE LINE ONE · SCALP

Topical hair protocols stop at the surface. Yours doesn't have to.

If you're microneedling the scalp and applying PRP or growth-factor serums on top, you already believe in the biologic — you're just relying on microchannels to carry it in. Scalp mesotherapy places it at the depth you set, with the same settings every visit. Patients see the difference in their photos; you see it in a series booked months ahead.

THE PROOF IS IN THE RESULTS

Scalp protocol with take-home hair care · 6 months. Individual results vary.

Scalp protocol with take-home hair care. Individual results vary.

- In the chair: scalp protocol placed at the depth scalp work needs
- Between visits: shampoo, conditioner, and scalp serum that keep patients engaged — and reordering
- Series-based — the next visit is already on the calendar

SERVICE LINE TWO · FACE

The facial that puts the actives in, not on.

Hydradermabrasion and microneedling prepare the skin. Mesotherapy supplies it — two passes, one device. Gun mode places the actives: at the press and frequency you set, each pulse delivers a measured bolus into the dermis. More press, less frequency — more product in one papule, exactly where you want it. Then pen mode, at 1,500 strokes a minute, rejuvenates the skin with the product already in place. The 4-step home ritual protects the hydration barrier, so the result holds until the next visit.

THE PROOF IS IN THE RESULTS

Six-session facial protocol with home care. Individual results vary.

- Professional solutions by concern — hydration, glow, eye area
- The 4-step ritual at home: cleanser · serum · cream · protection
- Signature protocol = series pricing + membership

The 4-step home ritual

Protects the skin's hydration barrier after treatment, so results look better and last longer — and the reorder comes back to your shelf.
